Wendy Middleton writes: "I love penguins and my favourite penguin book from my childhood was Mr. Popper's Penguins. I realize that today its contents may be frowned upon, since Mr. Popper kept his penguins in a refrigerator in his basement and he painted their feathers so that he could tell them apart. However, I still think that it is a delightful penguin fiction to go along with all the factual books on your site." Mr. Popper's Penguins: $6.99 at Amazon. Kids' Books. Some of the authors who were part of Penguin's introduction were well-known at the time, and continue to be today (Agatha Christie, Ernest Hemingway). But some of the other authors and books have faded into publishing history, and are no longer available. One of the most celebrated writers in the world, Agatha Christie was known as the Queen of Crime. She is best remembered for her eighty detective novels, as well as her successful West End theatre plays. The Guinness Book of World Records lists her as the best-selling writer of books of all time and the best-selling writer of any kind, along with William Shakespeare. Only the Bible is known to have outsold her collected sales of roughly four billion copies of novels.
