What we study : Majors in Classical and Medieval Studies study the ancient worlds of Greece, Rome, and Northern Europe, the antique world of the Mediterranean Basin and the medieval worlds of Eastern and Western Europe, the Mediterranean Basin, and the Near East. The thesis requires students to engage in ethical practices and to construct well-organized and effective arguments. Writing should be carefully organized with structural integrity both within and across chapters. #71: Simple CMS with Thesis. Published September 17, 2018. Episode notes. While Thesis isn't a fully featured CMS, it does a lot and is incredibly easy to drop in use where you need it. In this episode we'll see how simple it is to add Thesis to a Phoenix application. Now let's take a quick look at the application we'll be using. Our application here currently only has one page of content. And that's a problem because we want this to be a blog. We'll use Thesis in order to give us a way to easily add additional blog posts.

Thesis is a lightweight, but powerful, CMS for Elixir that was created by InfiniteRed. While Thesis isn't a fully featured CMS, it does a lot and is incredibly easy to drop in use where you need it. In this episode we'll see how simple it is to add Thesis to a Phoenix application. Now let's take a quick look at the application we'll be using. Our application here currently only has one page of content. And that's a problem because we want this to be a blog. We'll use Thesis in order to give us a way to easily add additional blog posts. Thesis: A Rails CMS that doesn't hijack your development workflow. 116 commits. 7 branches. Most Rails content management systems make you conform to their system from the start, making it difficult to just "drop in" the gem and make it work with your CMS. Thesis tries to be a drop-in CMS that doesn't hijack your development workflow and stays out of the way. Requirements. Rails 4.0.x (or higher). The winner of the CMS Thesis Award in 2008 was Dr Samantha Petersen of South Africa for her work entitled "Understanding and Mitigating Vulnerable Bycatch in southern African Trawl and Longline Fisheries". By-catch is a major concern to CMS as it affects a number of migratory species including albatrosses and petrels, marine turtles, sharks and cetaceans. CMS Senior Thesis Guidelines.
