The New International Version (NIV) is a completely original translation of the Bible developed by more than one hundred scholars working from the best available Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek texts. The initial vision for the project was provided by a single individual " an engineer working with General Electric in Seattle by the name of Howard Long. And finally, in 1965, after several years of preparatory study, a trans-denominational and international group of scholars met in Palos Heights, Illinois, and agreed to begin work on the project " determining to not simply adapt an existing English version of the Bible but to start from scratch with the best available manuscripts in the original languages.
